

Volume 11

July 2021

Articles

---

Turning Over a New Leaf: The British Government, the Cultural Revolution, and the Ethnic Chinese Community in Britain, 1967–1968
- Dalton Rawcliffe

Branding the Chinese Dream: Reception of China’s Public Diplomacy in Britain’s “Cultural China”
- Yan Wu, Sian Rees, Richard Thomas and Yakun Yu

Guarding the Space In-between: The Quandary of Being a Liberal Mainland Student Migrant in Hong Kong
- Ling Tang

Becoming “British East Asian and Southeast Asian”: Anti-racism, Chineseness, and Political Love in the Creative and Cultural Industries
- Diana Yeh

Red Collections in Contemporary China: Towards a New Research Agenda
- Emily Williams

Colour Me Revolutionary: How the Use of Colour Grammar Aids in Understanding Internal Messages in Chinese Visual Iconography
- Avital Zuk Avina

The Digital Illusion: Chinese New Media Artists Exploring the Phenomenology of Space
- Angela Becher

Essay

---

Elegy to the Nanguan Mosque (1981–2020): The Rise and Fall of a Symbol of Hui Muslim Identity
- Jin Xu